Steven B. Zelin was born and raised in New York City. A licensed CPA since 2000, he holds an MBA in Finance and Marketing and a B.S. in Accountancy awarded magna cum laude. He is an Adjunct Professor of Accounting at Long Island University where he teaches Auditing and Accounting Information Systems. Every year he conducts a seminar on The Business of Being an Artist for various groups of small business people and artists. He is active on the Not-for-Profit and Taxation of Individuals committees of the New York State Society of CPAs.

After starting his career at PricewaterhouseCoopers with a focus on external auditing, then working as an internal auditor for an investment bank, Steven founded his own firm, which specializes in nonprofit work and in providing general business services to artists.

Steven Zelin, CPA LLC currently employs three full-time staff accountants, and the firm maintains strong relationships with consultant specialists. The Lowe Bureau LLC, the bookkeeping arm of the firm acquired in 2010, currently employs several experienced bookkeepers and one CPA.

Steven has NASD Series 6, 7 and 63 certification. In 2010 he became a registered representative with H.D. Vest, an investment services firm. In addition to tax, audit and bookkeeping work, he advises clients on overall investment, retirement planning and wealth management issues.

In addition to his work as a CPA and business advisor, for many years Steven has been active in the music business as a singer/songwriter. The Singing CPA has found his way to the front pages of the Wall Street Journal and The New York Times, among other newspapers and media outlets.
